Penny Wallace and Robin Brogan are requesting an Amendment for the Claims submitted earlier to 3 claims instead of 12. We would like to cancel the first set of claims we submitted and replace them with these new claims.

1. What we claim as our invention is a trivia style board game about Death and Forensics. The game is factual and is to be used as a recreational form of entertainment.
2. We claim that the game consists of 6 player pieces with 6 colored stands, a game board 24" x 20" unfolded, 1,200 questions on 300 cards with answers on the back, a die, a trivia card holder, a bonus card holder, 24 board pass cards. The board has 8 bonus squares, 11 blue squares, 9 black squares and 8 green squares.
3. We claim there is no existing game like ours about death and forensics.
